
Giving or Sending Money to the Hilfskomitee in Germany

Written when one of our members wanted to donate funds because he was so greatly helped by them,

The simplest is to use PayPal. Usually paypal.com makes it very easy and quick for its customers to establish such an account. Paypal will ask you during the transaction about the currency for the transaction (US dollars, Euros, etc). Use the address specified on the Hilfskomitee "Publications" web page (currently steinmann-hmc1@t-online.de).

However if all this is not acceptable to you, there are still the more traditional means for money transfer such as:

- Cheque or money order payable to: Hilfskomitee der Galiziendeutschen e.V. Cheque to be sent to their treasurer (current as of March 2017):
Hans Steinmann (Schatzmeister)
Im Weiber 21
65812 Bad Soden, Germany
- International Money Transfer to: Hilfskomitee der Galiziendeutschen e.V. to be sent to Postbank Stuttgart. This is a bank to bank transfer and may be expensive at some banks. See the bottom of their Order Form on their publications web page for their banking details.

If there are further questions or queries please don't hesitate to contact them via their "Contact Us" link on the bottom left of their web page (http://www.galizien-deutsche.de/english/contact_us.htm)
